The following is a portion of the Ethics Board findings and undisputed facts and testimony.

The Ethics Board met in June of this year and voted to investigate that matter fully and conduct a hearing. That hearing was held July 11, with McDow testifying under oath and without an attorney.

Following is a portion of the Ethics Board report, which details McDow’s actions and the length she took to conceal her actions, and her noncredible testimony.

The Evidence Available to the Board

While there were some inconsistencies between Ms. McDow’s testimony and some of the documentary evidence available to the Board, most of these inconsistencies relate to the times Ms. McDow offered as to why she took the mental improvements to property.

A press conference was held last week in front of 66 Main St., East Yonkers’ new affordable housing building built with 80-20 tax credits, to provide previous partnership with the Hub Network, a destination for kids and their families, as part of a nationwide initiative for children’s Halloweenospooky. Incentives for Affordable Housing

Incentives for Affordable Housing

With the hope of incentivizing developers to invest in the renovations of older buildings and the construction of new affordable housing units in Yonkers, City Council President Chuck Leventak and Councilmember Christopher Johnson, D-Fairmont, recently introduced a local law to allow Yonkers to opt to an existing state law that provides partial tax exceptions on the value of incentives for affordable housing.

The Ethics Board received correspondence from the IG in September 2012, referring the request for the board to investigate that matter. Following is a portion of the Ethics Board findings and undisputed facts and testimony.

Florida artist Stephanie Pollack, of Watercolor Designs by Stephanie is giving Cross County Shopping Center’s children’s play area a whole new look. The playground, which is affectionately called “The Zoo Zone” by shoppers, consists of seven play pieces with an animal theme, including a hippo, lion, giraffe, and a centerpiece tree house slide.

Pollack was commissioned to complete a 45-foot-long-by-3-foot-tall mural on the back wall of the playground in mid-September, and is creating a jungle wonderland for kids to enjoy.

“I wanted to paint a graphic that would entertain and inspire kids,” she said. “The mural showcases a variety of animals and is colorful and eye-catching. All day, kids have stopped by to watch me paint and are excited to see the animals come to life!”

Pollack, who is based in Florida from January to June, was visiting the area and submitted design sketches that caught the attention of mall managers. The mural was completed Friday, Sept. 27 for families to enjoy.

The play area was installed as part of Cross County Shopping Center’s $250 million renovation and expansion, which was completed in the fall of 2011. Today, there are thousands of children who visit the play area each month.

“It’s important for us to keep updating our look, as well as new stores,” said Pat Natale, senior property manager. “The play area, free parking and outdoor seating are just some of the convenient amenities we hope shoppers will continue to enjoy.”

New Yorkers Animal Shelter Celebrates Official Opening

Macy Miller Spans was joined last week by the Yonkers City Council, Yonkers State Delegation, Washingtonacios officials, and charitable and non-profit organizations to officially cut the ribbon, opening the new New Yorkers Animal Shelter at 1099 Ridge Hill Boulevard.

“Our goal with the new animal shelter has been to transform it into a temporary home for animals picked up off the streets and turn it into a more human living space that showcases pets for adoption,” said Spans. “Now, Yonkers residents and visitors from neighboring communities can come to the new Animal Shelter, spend quality time with the dogs and cats, and bring home a new member of their family.”

The new shelter replaces the city’s old 9,200-square-foot facility, which operated in the 1990s with a focus on animal control. The old facility had several design deficiencies which made it difficult to clean the kennels and lacked proper air ventilation and purification systems, all of which led to a non-inviting environment that resulted in poor visits from the public.

In contrast, the new 15,000-square-foot shelter has been built with a focus on adoption. The facility is not only larger but features a welcoming public reception space, modern indoor and outdoor kennels, separate intake and adoption areas, modern vet facilities, and medical spaces that visitors can enjoy quality care and clean surfaces.

The new Yonkers Animal Shelter places an emphasis on cleanliness and animal well-being. The spread of airborne disease is controlled by 11 air-conditioning and heating units. Stained concrete and epoxy floors provide for easily cleaned surface areas, and a state-of-the-art sanitation system will control odors.

The City’s buildings, engineering, information technology, parks and public works departments oversaw the construction of the new shelter, which was built with the city, county, state, American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Building Hope, and several other organizations, as well as from donations from local residents.

The Yonkers Parks Department operates the Animal Shelter, which is staffed by 21 employees.

Consider Adopting Los Today!
The Yonkers Animal Shelter has many pets up for adoption.

Los is an adorable shi-tzu mix who is 3 to 4 years old and weighing about 12 pounds. He was a little bit shy when he first came to the shelter, but he is well socialized and friendly. Los likes other dogs, but hasn’t met a cat yet. Los is happy to take a walk or sit just with you and pet. Because he is a little nervous, he would be best in a household with children 16 and older.

Visit Los at the Yonkers Animal Shelter, 120 Fullerton Ave. Hours are 11 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. weekdays and noon to 5 p.m. weekends.

Inquiries may be made by phone at 914-977-3700 or by phone at 914-977-5995 during business hours.

E-Z Pass Tags Available
At City Clerk’s Office

The City of Yonkers is now selling pre-paid E-ZPass tags as a convenience and cost-saving measure for commuters. The pre-packaged tags, called “E-ZPass-on-the-go,” are available for purchase at the City Clerk’s Office at 40 South Broad Street, Yonkers, by appointment.

Tags may be purchased for two-axle cars, trucks and vans for private use only, and not for business or commercial use.

This is just one more way to provide quick and easy access to the E-ZPass system, like E-ZPass through the Thruway Management Authority.

Acting City Clerk, Vincent Spano: “The City Clerk’s Office is open from Monday to Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The tags have a $25 value and are active upon purchase. The first $15 is immediately available for toll payments, while the remainder becomes available upon return of Sunday service. No tolling is incurred.

The convenient, pre-packaged tags are available for $35 to those who purchase 48 hours of fixed-time use or by calling 1-888-909-1546.

E-ZPass provides a savings of 5 percent on all Thruway tolls and is accepted in 15 states, plus Canada.

Additional money can be added to the E-ZPass on either online or at any E-ZPass account service centers. For more information, visit www.ezpassny.com or go to www.ezpassny.com/ontogo.

This week in New York took for readers of this column. If you are looking for discussion of any or all of the following subjects, debt ceiling, government shutdown, Syria, Iran, wars, advertising, politics or even the Mamaroneck bubble head, you won’t find it here.

Obama, Biden, Pelosi, Cruz, Boehner, Obama, Sanders, fences, long lines, exchange- es, government, privatization, privatization shutdown, Syria, Iran, Iraq, Middle East, Egypt, Mamaroneck, Syria, Middle East, Egypt.

If you are-starved for information on any of these topics, pick up any newspaper or tune in any of the 1,000 channels on your television set and watch the news. Hopefully by the time you are reading this article the maze of an owner’s capital will be surrounded by Green men who should have a say in their differences. That’s what we pay them the big bucks for.

Gasoline prices are at their lowest levels in 1999. According to AAA, motor fuel supply, decreased demand due to the end of the summer driving season, lower fuel costs overall and lower winter gasoline are all reducing the price for a gallon of gas. You may have a fancy apple juice, apple cider, or cup just eating apples as a healthy snack. This year is the best year in a long time for apple picking in New York and neighboring states. Apples are abundant and the quality is great. With the gorgeous weather we have been having you can just pick up the car and particle in nature’s beauty.

You have to participate in this pumpkins-favored drinks, Starbucks, Dunkin Donuts, 7–11 and most places that prepare coffee drinks have a pumpkin-flavored drink.

I believe the ultimate opportunity to bring full-fledged casinos to the Catskill Mountains if they approve a ballot referendum this year. Hopefully in the interim we get the benefits of the new 2nd Avenue Subway grates (think of it, I might make it a regular feature!).

Westchester Solics Proposes for Future Operation of Line-Bus Lanes

Westchester County has formally issued a request for proposals for the operation of its line-bus lane system. On January 4, 2013, County Executive Robert Astorino announced last week. The line-bus lane system involves the use of multiple-vehicle sections of the Line-Bus lane system or the MetroCard fare structure. The line-bus lane system involves the use of multiple-vehicle sections of the Line-Bus lane system or the MetroCard fare structure.

The new contract will be for five years. The current line-bus lane system, which is part of the Metropolitan Transportation Authority's (MTA) Off-Peak line system, is due to expire at the end of 2016. The new contract will run from January 1, 2013, to January 1, 2018.

The request for proposals was issued to line-bus lane system operators who are interested in providing service on the line-bus lane system. The request for proposals is available online at westchestergov.com/rfp.

Analysis as to Ms. McDow's Explanation

If the board does not accept Ms. McDow’s explanation of her intentions, her further violations would be investigated. Ms. McDow’s explanation of her intentions includes the following points:

- It is not plausible. First, to explain why she metered thousands of envelopes containing personal business fliers requires accepting her explanation that there is no need for postage, which is not credible, and cast doubt on the credibility of her explanations about her intentions, her business, and her work for the Parking Authority. Ms. McDow preferred not to say how much she spent on business cards, which is not credible, and cast doubt on the credibility of her explanations about her intentions.

- It is also important for Republican County Executive Rob Astorino, who won the Independence primary in September, to help others understand the new independent line. Republican candidates for County Clerk, who lost the Independence primary, John Wynn and Dennis Caffo are leading a small, five-candidate slate.

- Parker has the Independence line. Ms. McDow is working hard to pick up a seat in the Seventh District, where she is in for a tough re-election fight against Democrat Mark Jaffe. Her explanation about putting stamps on city envelopes (which already had at least one stamp) is not credible, and cast doubt on the credibility of her explanations about her intentions.

Cavallo Loses 5 County Races
In Independence Primaries

Cavallo, who ran for mayor last year, is vying for the center and a seat on the County Board. Burrows has no Democratic opposition, and Ms. McDow, who ran for re-election this year, won the Independence endorsement for county clerk last November. She was endorsed by the Yonkers Parking Authority. She testified that she thought the city would not be charged for the mailing, which was not credible, and cast doubt on the credibility of her explanations about her intentions.

In summary, Ms. McDow testified as follows:

- The envelopes in four of the five boxes contained business fliers, but not business fliers, specifically, did not say whether there were business fliers, or if there were business fliers, they were not business fliers, specifically, did not say whether there were business fliers, or if there were business fliers, they were not business fliers.
