School 17 Stands Up To Bullying in Yonkers

Staff and students at School 17 are committed to preventing bullying, and on Oct. 22, the entire staff and students were orange and hosted several events to spread the word about the negative effects of bullying. Students created and signed a pledge that will serve to remind them why they should not tolerate bullying. Students came up with the following phrase:

1. At School 17, bullies always pay, and never get away.
2. Together, we stand against bullying.
3. A compliment goes a long way.
4. School 17 is bully-free because we are family.
5. Being kind is always on our minds.
6. Bullying ends with us.
7. Step up so bullies step down.
8. Students at School 17 were reminded that bullying hurts people and is not nice.

Through a short poem, students remember the simple steps one can take to be a good friend:

I can be a friend every single day.
I can be a friend by smiling at you.
I can be a friend, when you are feeling blue.
I can be a friend when you are sad.
I can be a friend when you are scared.
I can be a friend, when you're feeling down.
I can be a friend, when you're feeling lost.
I can be a friend, when you're feeling blue.

I can be a friend, when you're feeling blue.

We can be great friends, what do you say?

Yonkers senior citizens who live in the Western Avenue apartments and who have been asking to have their benches replaced for some time finally got their wish, thanks to City Council Minority Leader Michael Sabatino and his staff and students from Saunders High School.

In response to the request, Sabatino’s office contacted Saunders H.S. shop teacher Mark Riccettson, who – along with his carpentry class students – built the benches, which were picked up by the Municipal Housing Authority for weather proofing.

The benches, which were completed some time ago, were installed outside the office on Oct. 22.

Becoming a part of NewYork-Presbyterian means more than hanging our new red signs. In the months to come, you will see a hospital transformed. A new cardiac cath lab. A new cancer center. An influx of skills, ideas and technology. And seamless access to our doctors and services. In the meantime, please excuse the cranes and jackhammers. Amazing things are happening here.

Should Obama Apologize for His Failed Foreign Policy?

The defining moment when many Americans felt Barack Obama could not be trusted to protect our national security came in August. Obama had just an unmitigated disaster as a television commentator of American journalist James Foley, a former writer for the Christian Science Monitor, was savagely murdered, and Americans were horrified to find themselves being contemptuously ridiculed American weakness by acting like a lovelorn teenager in out capacity to rapidly produce nukes. We vowed evaporated into a proposed deal granting evaporating receptors during “negotiations.” Iran knows Obama will not apply pressure to "negotiate" the brutal murder of a fellow citizen was witnessed on television the president’s foreign policy is based on Leftist ideology exacerbated by ignorance of how the brutal Assad kleptocracy with the access to Syria that Iran grants it and that Obama lacks integrity. The president initially vowed that “all options are on the table.” This was to be the start of the over-riding threat: Iran’s over-riding threat was mismanaged.

Obama “negotiated” with Iran through the back door. The real story of Iran’s nuclear program is described in (1) Under Secretary Wendy Sherman, who gave North Korea’s nuclear program a green light, was not expelled to be double-crossed; and (2) European politician Catherine Ashton, who political influence is exerted on the countries of the West only, because Iran, but not western democracies, should be left alone to negotiate.

The “Iranian” denials are supposed to be refuted by a new, but are not refuted. This president has vowed the “deadline” will be a means of pressure, but will not apply pressure during “negotiations.”

The Yonkers Animal Shelter has many pets available for adoption. Brandy is a 1-year-old, mixed breed dog who weighs about 45 pounds. He has been at the shelter about a month and has become an indoor pet—so it is a favorite of volunteers and visitors. He is a great, rather calm dog who gets along with cats, as well as dogs. Brandy has had lusk everyone he has met! He likes to play and chase a ball and even seems to know that he is supposed to bring it back to his person. He also likes to cuddle and would probably enjoy having a person to relax and watch television with after all play busily.

Brandy would make a fine companion for a family or single person and could live in a city or suburban setting.

Visit him at the Yonkers Animal Shelter, 1000 Ridge Hill Blvd, between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. weekdays, and noon and 4 p.m. weekends. For more information, call 914-6739 during hours of operations or 201-981-3325 at any time or via email inlysh@ymail.com.

Final election results gave the newly created seat on the Yonkers Court to Evan Inlaw, a Democrat, who defeated Republican Edward Dillon by 1,600 votes once all the machines and paper ballots were tallied.

And in the race for State Senate in the 37th District, which includes East Yonkers, incumbent State Sen. George Latimer held off a challenge from Republican Joe Dillon. Initial results on election night had Latimer with a comfortable 55-45 percent lead, with 80 percent of the vote counted. But after the Yonkers results came in, and paper ballots were counted, the final results had Latimer with 51.2 percent of the vote and Dillon with 48.8 percent, and a much closer final result than anyone had expected.

Included in the packages were hundreds of handmade cards and letters from local elementary schools to show support and gratitude for their service, and provide a special message to our troops this holiday season.

Cub Scout Pack 6 also held a brief Veteran's Day ceremony for those in attendance who have served our country.

Solar panels. Killoran raised funds and collected donations of materials and labor to build not only these homes for veterans in Yonkers, but many other homes throughout Westchester.

Veterans are a large part of who Habitat helps, as well as a large part of its volunteers corps, as 10 veterans were hired to work on the Roushions’ new home. Habitat has also repaired many veterans’ homes, as well as local American Legion and VFW Posts.

“T-M have never witnessed a home being built from the ground up, and to be witnessing my home being built by Habitat for Humanity is simply a blessing,” said Michael Roushion. “I am so thankful.”

The Habitat team is never done, and after completing one project is on to the next. For Killoran, and Habitat, there are too many veterans – and residents in Westchester County – without a home to call their own; Habitat-Westchester gearing up to begin its build of more veteran homes on Purser Place in Yonkers.

More than 1,500 participants came out to Empire City Casino at Yonkers Raceway on Oct. 26 to participate in the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation’s Walk to Cure Diabetes, with walk over $300,000 raised by different groups, organizations and families.

Empire City Vice President and COO Bob Galterio’s daughter Cara was diagnosed with type 1 diabetes at age 9, and the long-time executive was immediately compelled to take action to fight the disease. So, “Cure for Cara” was born, with Galterio serving as captain of the Cure for Cara team, which has raised $477,000 to date from the walk.

“It is so important to be working alongside JDRF on such an important goal: curing a disease in which 300 Americans are diagnosed with type 1 diabetes every day,” said Galterio. “JDRF’s Walk to Cure Diabetes is a morning full of celebration, community and families gathering together to support our loved ones with type 1 diabetes.”

“JDRF is immensely appreciative of Empire City’s participation,” said JDRF Executive Director Marcie O’Connor. “This is corporate citizenship at its finest. The commitment of Bob Galterio and his employees enables us to accelerate research to find a cure for diabetes. Similar is not a cure; merely life support for the estimated 3 million Americans suffering from type 1 diabetes and its complications. Research is the only answer.”

JDRF walks were held in more than 200 cities worldwide, with donations going to JDRF’s efforts to fund scientific research to better treat, prevent and ultimately cure type 1 diabetes.

Yonkers Welcomes Irish Minister & Consul General

The Asiling Irish Community Center on McLean Avenue welcomed Ireland’s Minister for the Diaspora Jimmy Deenihan and Irish Consul General Barbara Jones to a town hall-style meeting and great news of 8, where residents were able to hear from both the latest policies making their way through Parliament and to ask questions.

Asiling Executive Director Orla Kelleher gave a presentation about the work they are doing at the center and its future goals, and Deenihan was presented with two gifts by Agnes Delaney, chairperson of the Board of Directors.

He was also given the DVD, “Memory Brings Us Back: Irish Stories of Farewells and Fortunes,” a documentary profile of the immigrant experience of 10 men and women who left Ireland for the U.S. during 1929 and 1965.

Dwane Dobhey, who teaches music and singing at the Asiling Center, played selections on her flute and five students from the Bridget Flynn School of Irish Dance performed.

“A classic Irish town hall was held in Yonkers,” said Deenihan. “It was particularly rewarding to see Ireland’s Minister for the Diaspora and Irish Consul General speaking to the community in a town hall meeting.”

Yonkers Leaders Tour San Juan High School

While in Puerto Rico for the annual Somos El Futuro Legislative Conference, Assemblymember Shelley Mayer, Eduardo Leguerrera, Carmen Goldberg and Susan_cre Cruz were spotted several hours touring a specialized high school for students with disabilities. The school offers a wide range of educational and vocational programming, including general education, special education, and vocational training.

During their visit, the delegation met with students and teachers, and observed classes in action. They were impressed with the school’s innovative approach to education and the high level of student engagement.

The school’s mission is to provide a safe and supportive learning environment for students with special needs, enabling them to reach their full potential and become successful members of the community.

The event was hosted by the Puerto Rico Fund for Education Reform, a non-profit organization that works to improve education in the island territory. The delegation met with the school’s leadership team and observed a class in action.

The visit was significant as it highlighted the importance of inclusive education and the role of government in supporting special education programs. The delegation was impressed with the school’s commitment to providing high-quality education to all students, regardless of their needs.
