Snow Removal in Yonkers
Is a Difficult Task

Yonkers Bids Farewell
To Comedian Sid Caesar

The following letter we received from Peter Parsekian, from the Pioneer Lock Corporation in Yonkers, is symbolic of the many letters and emails we have received from residents and employees working in Yonkers about the difficult conditions of the roadways in the city during the ongoing winter storm and snow throughout the Hudson Valley:

I am writing to point out the horrible condition of the streets in Yonkers that resulted from the last snow storm. They are appalling! And that street was almost two-weeks ago. Ruts remain everywhere, snowbanks for most of the parking restricted spaces, and potholes complete the disaster.

For example, there are a series of ice bumps just west of Riverdale Avenue, on Prospect Street. It seems that Yonkers' budget is not adequate for these necessary repairs. It is underestimating when considering that firefigthers are retiring at 47 years of age with a pension of more than $100,000 per year (without adding in health care) and the city sits down on Lincoln's Birthday.

"Other Towns have some of these problems – but not all of them. I suppose we will have to wait until April until we see them corrected in Yonkers." (End of letter.)

Parsekian's arguments over the pensions of city employees are an argument for another day. Instead we will address the problem of snow removal – or lack thereof.

Yonkers employees working in Yonkers about the difficulties described in the emails we have received from residents and employees working in Yonkers about the difficult conditions of the roadways in the city during the ongoing winter storm and snow throughout the Hudson Valley:

The City of Yonkers has many famous sons and daughters that grew up here and used their life experiences and education for greatness.

From singers Ella Fitzgerald, Steven Tyler and Mary J. Blige, to actor Jon V oight, to Astronaut Ron Garan, to inventor Edwin Armstrong, and to current FBI Director James Comey, Yonkers is a member of that famous Yonkers club.

Caesar was born in Yonkers on Sept. 8, 1922, and his mother Ida who emigrated to the United States from Italy and grew up in the city, at the old St. Clair Hotel in downtown Yonkers. Max was given the last name Caesar by an immigration worker at Ellis Island.

Anyone who can call Albert Einstein a fan, or have listened to people say you are the funniest person since Charlie Chaplin, is an American legend. Sid Caesar, an American and a Yonkers legend, died last week at the age of 91.

The Yonkers Board of Education met Wednesday and was expected to announce that Dr. Michael Yazurlo will serve as interim superintendent of the Yonkers Public Schools, to temporarily replace outgoing Superintendent Bernard Pierorazio.

The decision to bring in Yazurlo is the best possible choice for the districts most challenging schools, will also be addressed by the board.

I would be writing from Westchester County today rather than at the New York State Judicial Center. I was asked by a judge to come and testify in court.

I was nuts. Someone even complimented the judge on his performance.

Yes, we all enjoyed ourselves. I left the court with the idea that I was a hero.

That said, I would be writing this column from Westchester County Jail or a federal penitentiary without some correspondence.

As some of you may know, I am an outspoken advocate for clean energy.

I was obsessed with my orders to send the bumper sticker for my car and the lawn sign. As some of you may know, I am an outspoken advocate for clean energy.

This combination a new era for Yonkers as it brings together two celebrations honoring Irish heritage and contributions, as well as the origins of the Cornish Miners and the Archdiocese of New York. This new future together promises to make Yonkers the place to be on St. Patrick’s Day.

Screening & Discussion of Freedom Riders at Library

Join the Yonkers Philharmonic to Present Dvorak Program

The Yonkers Riverfront Library will present a screening of “Freedom Riders” on Sunday, March 1 at 2 p.m. in the second-floor Community Room at the Larkin Center.

This documentary tells the story of a band of college students who risked everything to integrate important bus stations in the Deep South in the early 1960s. The screenings will also be followed by discussion facilitated by Dr. Kenneth Woodard, professor of history at Bard Lawerence College.

The event is the second program in the series "Cultural Equal: America’s Civil Rights Struggle," an initiative of the National Endowment for the Humanities and the Gilber Lehrman Institute of American History that uses the power of documentary films to encourage community discussion of America’s civil rights history. In coming weeks, the series will continue with "Latino Americans: Prejudice and Pride" on Saturday, March 22, and "Brick by Brick" on March 23 at 1 p.m. in the Community Room at the Yonkers Riverfront Library. Both are accessible from the nearby Vuona Park Parking Garage or the Warner Burton Parking Garage.

For information or to RSVP for any of these events, call 914-755-7961 or visit the library’s website at www.yrl.org.

Yonkers Philharmonic presents Dvorak Concerto in B minor

Op. 104 for Cello and Orchestra. “The Dvorak Concerto in B minor, Op. 104 for Cell and Orchestra is a work of great fineness and eloquence,” said Kathryn Clower, who will perform the concerto on March 23 at 3 p.m. at Saundra Lawrence College. Also on the program will be Paul Winter's "Flute Song" and Heifetz's "Kaffir Sones.

In the description, composers, listeners and performers indulge in a certain level of nepotism, which is precisely the point. The performers are among the greatest in the world; the composers are three of the greatest of all time. The listeners, which consist of every living soul, all carry a bit of the composers within them. The advisers are the various individuals who nourish and make the connection between faith and everyday life.

The Dvorak will also honor one of its own, Robert Schumacher, a valuable member of Division One and has been a part of the program for over a decade. Schumacher is the only cellist with a major role in the program. The cellist will be joined on stage by his wife, violist April Johnson, and their two daughters.

For more information on this free program, visit www.yonkersphil.org or email petersielenberg@gmail.com, or call 914-631-6798.

Participants will get a glimpse of the high performance, Positive Student ideas that are being adopted in Europe through a presentation by special guest Kaj Kemml, German-Polish bassoonist and teacher. A discussion and question-answer session will follow to enhance the learning opportunity for all participants.

For more information, visit www.kemml.com. Please include your name and phone number on your RSVP. There is no charge for the concert. A donation of $20 per person will help cover the costs of the event.

Screening of ‘Bag It – Is Your Life Too Plastic?’

The Yonkers Green Party Task Force, SWAC and NWEAC have announced that they will host a free seminar for municipal officials, planning and zoning board members and environmental commission members who are considering the legislation and implementation of local green building codes. Friday, Feb. 28 from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Yonkers Public Library, Central 1, Mound Avenue, Yonkers. (The snow date is March 7.)

Representatives from Bedford, Hastings, Greenburgh and Yonkers – four local municipalities that have already incorporated energy-efficient standards into their local building codes – will discuss the approaches they have taken to enhance the environmental performance of the built environment in their particular municipalities. The general public is also invited to attend.

Plastic is everywhere and infiltrates our lives in unappreciative and frightening ways, and in this teaching and other the fun film, viewers will see low “everyday” life, which is what they can do about it. The screening is being held by Blake Rowe who was 25 years old with life, created the first single-use plastic bags. Truly one single-use plastic bag also gets the fighters the Hudson River, they also what was being a huge economic and environmental nightmare. They started Eco-Bags Project to create alternatives to single-use plastic bags.

More than 30 people are attending the Board of Directors including: Robert Byrne, Elaine and Thomas Virginia, Crysta, Renée Defoe, Jana (Proud, 100% Tax Deductible) Wheel for Wishes.org.

Fifteen seventh-graders and two teachers are participating in a nine-week after-school program at the Lawrence College Center for the Urban River Parkway Program.

The seventh-graders were selected by their teachers on the basis of their interest in science. About half of the 90 students participating in the program will attend during the school day.

The STEM after-school and summer science programs at Lincoln Park are open to all students. The STEM after-school program is a component of the Urban River Parkway Project, its mission is to create an inclusive, educational environment that supports the ELA Common Core Standards and focuses on inquiry, writing, and new technologies.

A "lack of a scientist" component of the program gives students an opportunity to question SLC faculty in a variety of scientific fields about what it is like to be a scientist.

"Kids don’t get to see the humans who are at the heart of scientific investigation," said Kumar Singh, a physicist and associate dean of the College. "This will give them a glimpse of the people who actually do the research, but are standing up for ethical practice by redirecting their efforts to a new, more sustainable path.

"As we celebrate the awarding of the All Children-All Families Seal of Recognition again by the Human Rights Campaign, we thank Yonkers Public Schools for the opportunity to be part of this strong community organization continuing to improve in leadership, motivation and commitment," said Susan Holobof, co-founder of the WSP Foundation.

Bald Heads = Big Bucks

At St. Baldrick’s Fundraiser
Event Dedicated to Jef Campion

The Yonkers Philharmonic will be hosting its annual Bald Heads & Big Bucks fundraiser, which is dedicated to Jef Campion. The event will be held on February 22, with all proceeds going to the St. Baldrick's Foundation.

Bald Heads & Big Bucks is a fundraising event where participants shave their heads in solidarity with kids fighting cancer, while raising money for research. The Yonkers Philharmonic will be hosting this event to honor Jef Campion, a local hero who dedicated his life to helping sick kids through his efforts at the YPD.

The Yonkers Philharmonic will be hosting its 25th annual Bald Heads & Big Bucks fundraiser on February 22. This year, members of the Yonkers Fire Department have also joined the cause.

We are proud to announce that we are dedicating this year’s St. Baldrick’s fundraiser to our group friend and family, Jef Campion, who recently passed away. This event is dedicated to the love of his life and helping sick kids through his efforts at the Ronald McDonald House.

Milestones are held at St. John’s Riverside Hospital, Andrew Pavlin, 967 N. Broadway, Yonkers, in the board room. For more information, please visit www.stjohnsrh.org.

Congressman Eliot Engel, a senior member of the House of Representatives and Co-Chair of the Congressional Caucus for Women's Issues, was named to the ranking member on the Foreign Affairs Committee, and Chairman of the Subcommittee on Europe, the Middle East and Russia. He was re-elected Tuesday as the highest ranking woman in the history of the U.S. Congress. “He is an accomplished legislator and a leader who has championed women’s rights and issues in Washington, D.C. and in the United States,” said Gilwit. “He has been a strong advocate for women’s issues and has worked tirelessly to protect the rights of women and girls around the world.”

Engel is the first woman to chair the Committee on Foreign Affairs, and he has been a vocal advocate for women’s rights and issues in the U.S. and around the world. He has been a strong supporter of the Women’s Right of Passage Act, which was signed into law in 2010. The act provides important protections for women who are victims of violence and who are trying to escape from abusive relationships. Engel has also been a strong advocate for the Women’s Right of Passage Act of 2014, which was signed into law in 2014. Shirley Chisholm's Legacy Recalled

At Mount Vernon Celebration

Community leaders and postal officials celebrated Black History Month at City Hall in Mount Vernon last week by honoring the legacy of former Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm. The gala included a special unveiling of the new Shirley Chisholm “Forever” commemorative postage stamp.

Among the ceremony participants were Mayor Ernest Davis, Former Congresswoman Yulonda Towles, City Council President Ra- berta Apuzzo, Mount Vernon NAACP Chapter President Martin Linde, Unity Baptist Tabernacle Church Pastor Edward Mulrias, Acting Post- master Robert McCarthy, Former Postmaster Pat Marlowe, VONP Westchester Director Marketing Manager Debra Jones, Cynthia Miller from Con- gresswoman Speyer’s office, vocalist Frederick My- lers, and the Mount Vernon High School Royal Nights musical group.

Pioneering Congresswoman Shirley Chi- sholm is the 37th honoree in the Postal Service’s long-running Black Heritage Stamp Series. After serving in the New York State Assem- bly, Chisholm was elected to Congress in 1968, becoming the first African-American woman to serve in the U.S. House of Representatives. Chi- sholm also scored another historic first in 1972, when she declared her candidacy for the Demo- cratic nomination for president – the fi rst Afri- can-American woman to seek the nomination of a major political party. She was also a founding member of the Congressional Black Caucus and the Na- tional Women’s Political Caucus.

Chisholm, the daughter of immigrants, was thrust to limbo status for a time, including a law to extend the minimum wage to domestic work- ers. She believed in educational opportunities for all and helped pass Title IX, the law that says public schools must treat boys and girls equally.

She was also one of the leading advocates for a federal holiday to honor Martin Luther King Jr. Chisholm served in Congress until 1983. After retiring from politics, she taught at Mount Holyoke College, wrote, and lectured. She con- tinued to speak out for the rights of women, peo- ple of color, and the poor, fighting for legislation to support daycare centers and provide federal aid for education.

A few years ago while working in a com- munity liaison for the Westchester County Human Rights Commission I wrote some of the articles that we newsletter in what is now Black History Month. I was in the middle of Feb- ruary. Black History Month, I had decided to write the following poem about a child questioning her parents’ prejudice.

Prejudice is not innate…children are not born with the belief that others are inferior or not good enough to play with. They may learn it from others and be taught in the wrong way by those who feel the same.#include <iostream>

#include <iostream>

int main() {
    std::cout << "Why do I really not understand?" << std::endl;
    std::cout << "Although I’d like to know, Why my parents want me to dislike my neighbors so."
    return 0;

// This program prints "Why do I really not understand?" and "Although I’d like to know, Why my parents want me to dislike my neighbors so."
