YPD Joins Community For Police Night Out

The Yonkers Police Department joined with hundreds of Yonkers residents – and residents across America – to participate in National Night Out on Aug. 6.

National Night Out is an annual community-building campaign that promotes police-community partnerships and neighborhood camaraderie to make neighborhoods safer, more caring places to live. NNO enhances the relationship between neighbors and law enforcement while bringing back a true sense of community. Most of all, the event provides an opportunity to bring police and neighbors together under positive circumstances. The Yonkers Police Department had four locations for NNO events, one in each precinct – Andrus Field, Yonkers Middle School, Yonkers High School, and Empire City Casino.

Council President Khader Stays Connected This Summer

City Council President Mike Khader kept busy this summer by trying a new way to reach out to his constituents in Yonkers, through a virtual Town Hall online, and by renewing a yearly event to collect donations of backpacks for Yonkers students in memory of his nephew Jonathan Maldonado.

Khader held the virtual Town Hall with the help of Ru Ros, editor of the online website Yonkers Voice. While it is difficult to get the attention of many residents in Yonkers who, like all of us, use the summer to reconnect with their families and take a vacation – if possible – the virtual Town Hall, which the Yonkers Voice called the first virtual Town Hall in Yonkers, was considered a success.

“Mr. Khader once told me, ‘If it matters to you… it matters to Mike,’” said Ros. “We want to add to its burgeoning art scene, the rapidly developing Yonkers downtown waterfront neighborhood has a new, creative piece of street art. This dramatic addition comes in the form of a mural, spray-painted on the wall next to the old Yonkers Trolley Barn at 92 Main St. The mural, which was created by world-renowned street artist Fumero, pays tribute to local hero Jef Campion. Not only was Campion a highly decorated Yonkers firefighter, he was an artist, humanitarian, volunteer, and a 9/11 first responder. He passed away in January 2014.

Will & Riverfront Libraries Named Early Voting Locations for Yonkers

Our friend Catherine Ray reminded us that we can remind you. Ray wrote: “From mass shootings to problems at our borders, everyone’s stress level is raised. The overhaul of voting procedures passed by the New York State legislature since January 2019 should help. With early voting, we can relax and vote at our convenience. Every registered voter should be able to cast an early ballot in their preferred location.”

Recent rallies in Westchester have called for an end to gun violence.

Westchester Rallies Against Gun Violence Two Sides to This Debate

By Dan Murphy

Yonkers residents, community groups and religious organizations joined together last week to remember lives lost and recognize the fight against gun violence. One rally was held at the First Baptist Church of White Plains for an interfaith county-wide vigil to remember recent victims of gun violence resulting from the mass shootings in El Paso, Dayton, Brownsville and Gilroy, as well as the lives that are taken every day from gun violence, especially in marginalized communities.

Local youth activist and event organizer Kelly Marx, 19, of White Plains: “We must gather again to solemnly pay respects to all the individuals whose lives were taken while also recommitting to the fight against gun violence.

Sister to Sister Receives $20K Grant for STEAM Camp

By Eric Schoen

Sister to Sister has never had an easy task. Every week in August through Labor Day - the Catskill Mountains - we’ve been the place to go for people who are looking for fun in the sun. Unfortunately, now the Catskills has been replaced by gambling tables and slot machines.

The area has been transformed into a place of business and commerce, with new hotels and condos being built. Walmart and other big-box stores have replaced the local artisans who once made handmade crafts and sold them to tourists.

I began my tour on a Wednesday morning, making a pit stop at the area in Monson, Massachusetts, to see the new Resorts World Casino. People in the area were surprised to see the new development, which is the first of its kind in the area.

I visited Bethel Woods Center for the Arts (Garden Light overloaded) and saw two sold-out concerts had taken place in the last few weeks. The area has become a hub for musical performances and events.

I am happy to report that in my tour of my home town, the Catskills, the big hotels with top amusement parks and world-class attractions now dominate the area. The area is no longer a place for families to enjoy the natural beauty of the Catskill mountains, but a place for gambling and entertainment.

I am not a big fan of gambling, but as a reporter, I have to cover it. I hope that the new developments in the area will bring more tourists and businesses to the region, but I am concerned about the future of the area. I am worried that the new hotels and condos will overshadow the natural beauty of the Catskill mountains.

Sister to Sister Receives at the Woodstock of Circleville, circa 1969, in Bethel, New York

Sister to Sister is the name of the community service organization that was created in 1991 by Cheryl Brannan. The organization has been a leader in advocating for women’s rights and has sponsored numerous programs and events to support women and girls.

The organization has sponsored programs such as the STEAM camp, which is designed to encourage girls to pursue careers in science, technology, engineering, arts, and math (STEAM). The camp provides girls with hands-on learning experiences and opportunities to explore their interests in a supportive and inclusive environment.

Sister to Sister has been recognized for its dedication to empowering women and girls. In 2019, the organization received a state grant of $20,000 from Senate Majority Leader Andrea Stewart-Cousins to support the STEAM camp.

I am proud to be a part of this community and to support the work of Sister to Sister. I believe that we must continue to support organizations that work to empower women and girls and to create opportunities for them to succeed.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has supported Sister to Sister over the years. I am grateful for the support of our members, donors, and partners who have helped make our work possible.

Legal Assistance for Yonkers Tenants is Working

By Barbara Finkelshtain

Yonkers County is at the precipice of a housing and homelessness crisis. After the decline in rent aid housing in 2010, the city has 4,500 unlawful detainers in its court. The Yonkers Enhanced Access to Counsel Project (EACP) has been working to address this issue.

Statistics translate into real pain for tenants.евictions from rental housing are at the root. In 2018, 30% of tenants in New York are forced to fight evictions. Known as the “dispossessed,” they are exposed to, the better you can protect yourself, the more you are aware of.

Unfortunately, in even the shadiest of circumstances, the scale of the search for money is vast. Scammers commonly target people who are not aware of their rights or who are in dire need. The Yonkers Enhanced Access to Counsel Project (EACP) has been working to address this issue.

The Enhanced Access to Counsel Project (EACP) is a comprehensive civil legal services program that is the only provider of free, comprehensive civil legal services in the seven counties of the Hudson Valley. The EACP’s mission is to provide pro bono legal services to low-income tenants who are at risk of losing their homes.

The EACP program has already proven critical. Of the 48 cases we’ve closed since November, 2019, 40 of them have resulted in tenants retaining their homes.

Scaling up our program would allow us to extend these services to more tenants. This can only strengthen our communities, and promote community strength.

Community can simply mean your family, neighborhood, or any group of people who share a common goal or interest. You can contribute to strengthening your community by helping others who are in need.

already have, you learn of his artistic visions, his music and his Ground Zero. His commitment to activists, his unconditional dedication to his family and friends at Ronald McDonald House, his life as a fire fighter and, of course, his indomitable spirit.

The committee responsible for the concept and execution of this project — including Yonkers firefighters Lee Valley, Joe Cagliares, PJ Goldfeder, Barry McGoey and Yonkers Police Detective Keith Olson — expressed thanks to Yonkers Mayor Mike Spano, the Yonkers Brewing Co., the Pizza Place and Fansins, and all those who contributed to creating the mural.

There will be a mural dedication and celebration of Campion’s life Sept. 10 at Yonkers Brewing Co.

Fumero, also known for his huge “Grandpa” mural on the Harlem Station Building in Lakin Place, was a close friend of Campion. They often collaborated on works of art in Campion’s studio, a space now occupied by the Yonkers Brewing Co., at 92 Main St. Also contributing to the significance of the location of the mural is that Campion lived in the Trelley Barn lofts and that he was an early pioneer of the downtown Yonkers waterfront art scene.

Brilliantly and somewhat abstractly, Fansins created a mural that tells Campion’s story. If you take the time to study it, which so many have, you will see how much of Campion is told in the mural. The committee is thrilled with the mural that now adorns the downtown Yonkers waterfront art scene.

The mural was created in Campion’s memory. It pays homage to the Yonkers police, firemen and the community, and expresses the thanks of Friends and family of Maldonado.
