Step it up...
by Walking with Yonkers On the Move

Regular walking has been shown to be one of the easiest and most effective ways to become active.

YOM mile cards can be printed from the YOM website and will also be available at the Riverfront and Will libraries. In addition to motivating individuals to exercise via regular walks and setting personal goals, YOM hopes to top 10,000 combined citywide miles this year.

YOM is sponsored by The Community Planning Council, Yonkers, in partnership with the City of Yonkers.

Residents in East Yonkers once again have a choice when they go to the polls for the State Senate seat in the 39th District, as incumbent Democrat George Latimer is being challenged by Republican Rye City Councilwoman Julie Killian.

"I am a mother, a neighbor, a longtime community volunteer, and a deeply concerned citizen," she said in her remarks March 11 at Byrne Town Park. "Everyone knows me understanably exactly why I'm running for State Senate. I love New York, but I am deeply concerned about our New York State government. Regular people like me have lost confidence in Albany. We have a state government that's riddled with corruption and with career politicians. We must change that. We must take back our government from the career politicians who care more about themselves than the people they were elected to serve."

Latimer is serving his fourth year in the Senate, and has delineated Republican Bob Cohen and Joe Dinell in 2012 and 2014. During his tenure in the Senate, Latimer has exhibited a strong quality in our elected officials today – the ability to work constructively and work in a bipartisan manner.

In another rare Albany example of bipartisanship, State Sen. George Latimer, a Democrat, backed the Senate Republicans’ One-House Budget Bill week in and week out, as part of the process to finalize the New York State 2016-17 budget, due to close by June 15.

No budget bill ever perfectly, but there were key negotiating points in the Republican bill that made sense to be included in the coming Senate-Democratic Assembly negotiations,” said Latimer. “Specifically, he cited the positives in the Republican Rye City Councilwoman Julie Killian is challenging Republican State Sen. George Latimer.

Consider Adopting Princess

The Yonkers Animal Shelter has many pets available for adoption. Princess arrived at the shelter a few weeks ago when her family of seven years lost their home. She has an upbeat personality and has become a favorite of the staff and volunteers, interacting well with all people and all other animals in the shelter.

Princess likes motion and lots of space, but she would not be good with very young dogs or cats. She would make a good family companion and has lived with children. She knows some basic commands and is easy to walk (no pulling on the leash). This marks a popular pet with volunteers of all ages.

Princess is available at the Yonkers Animal Shelter, at 1265 Empire State Plaza, Yonkers, New York 10701, 9 am to 4 pm, Monday through Saturday.

For more information, call 914-377-7027 or visit www.yonkersassn.org.

when Fr. John came out from the kitchen with a big smile to personally serve up the pan-cakes and fruit to our guests, I was moved, I must admit. It was a little overwhelming to have someone notice me about myself. And amazingly, months later, I have learned that Fr. John does many things—ask and how things work with me.

This Saturday evening I completed the 18-week Community prayer program, and the next step was to pass the Eucharist at mass. I am proud of myself for completing it. I am proud of myself for completing it. I am proud of myself for completing it.

Note: To thank and honor Fr. John, there will be a wine and tea reception Tuesday, March 29 from 5:30 to 7:30 at the church. The celebration will continue at 7:30 pm at Will & Williams, 1801-002-000-003-004-005-006.

Rotary & Peace Corps Give Books to Costa Rican Kids

When it comes to serving under-privileged White Plains Peace Corps Volunteers (WPPCV) and through them to their fellow health care providers seek to give books for the small children there got a boost when the Yonkers Rotary Club, in conjunction with Neighbors Home Care, donated to the White Plains Education and Training Center.

The Peace Corps and the Yonkers Rotary Club hosted the event that demonstrated the merits of training adoption and comprehensive services ranging from cleaning and eating to more complex tasks, such as budgeting, workforce preparation, tax services for years to come, which provides students and families over members of overdosed victims are often the people in a position to save an overdosed victim’s life. This training ensures more people are trained and equipped with kits to give overdose victims opportunities to recover and get the help they need to address their addiction.

This event is free and open to the public, but in order to ensure Naloxone (Narcan), an opioid-reversing drug kits are available for all attendees, pre-registration at 914-779-0810 is required. Those in attendance will receive necessary training.

The featured speakers will be Dr. Edner Moreno, chief of service for addiction medicine behavioral health services at St. John’s, and John Stetneck, LCSW-R, director of clinical and behavioral health services at St. John’s.

Correction: In the Feb. 26 issue of Yonkers Rising, we failed to mention a story on St. John’s Riverside Hospital’s Internal Medicine Residency Program in which we incorrectly featured a logo that shows Dr. John’s affiliation with Mt. Sinai Hospital. The logo was run in error, and Dr. John’s is no longer affiliated with Mt. Sinai.

Last week marked a milestone for the newly-opened White Plains Education and Training Center – the date of its first graduation ceremony. Ten students graduated from a home health aide training program offered by Neighbors Home Care Services, one of several partners who will be providing training at the WP Training Center. Neighbors, a program of Lifting Up Westchester, is the primary sponsor of the program, which is being funded by a $400,000 grant from the New York State Division of HCOE.

HHA students receive free training and books that cover classroom and hands-on training with rigorous clinical practice. After successful completion of the program, newly-certified IHAs are qualified to perform health-related tasks such as dressing, feeding, walking and personal hygiene.

Michele D’Ambrosio, this year’s chairperson of the PBA Poster Contest, sent the following letter to Yonkers Rising, and it is reprinted below:

On Sept. 8, 1916, A.S. Tompkins, justice of the Westchester County Supreme Court, appointed two members to the board of directors. The number of its directors were five, consisting of one member from police headquarters and the improvement of their mental, social and economic status. Anything the PBA was involved with, Frankie attended every PBA meeting, every annual awards and installation dinner, in which more than 600 friends, family and supporters attended; and the new executive board and trustees extended, and the new executive board and trustees attended May 16, where the talented Chase Patterson will be premiered.
