Hey! I'm here to help if you have any questions or need information on different topics. Just let me know how I can assist you. Having a good time with your daily tasks and responsibilities is important for your personal and professional well-being. Remember to take breaks and recharge when needed. If there's anything specific you'd like to talk about, feel free to share it with me. Whether it's work-related concerns, personal issues, or just having a chat, I'm here to listen and help. Let's make the most of this day and get things done! Good luck, and stay positive.
The Clearwater Returns to Yonkers

Mayor-Elect Kelvin Cruz, from La Vega, Dominican Republic, visits Yonkers City Hall and Deputy Mayor Sue Gerry, with dignitaries.

The tall ship Clearwater, a 106-foot replica of the wooden cargo sloops that sailed the Hudson in the 1800s, has returned to sail the Hudson River – and visit Yonkers. The environmental/educational traveling vessel, after a winter and spring renovation, returned to Yonkers riverfront last week to take the staff and friends of Yonkers Brewing Co. on a 3-hour sail.

On board, there was the opportunity to spend time making new friends, getting hands-on experience with hoisting the magnificent sails of the sloop, and there were even some examples of native Hudson River marine life on board to see and feel up close. Captain Aleythea Dolstad, Caitlin Zinsley, the onboard educator and their teams of crew and volunteers provided a wealth of information to the many first-timers aboard.

Two hundred years ago, sloop cargo was mostly comprised of farm and agricultural goods from upstate, which were delivered downriver to New York City. The finished manufactured goods were then delivered back upstream. Today, Clearwater cargo consists of school children and other passengers who join the award-winning “Sailing Classroom” education programs, environmental advocacy, and celebration through music.

Launched in 1969 by Pete Seeger and friends, the traditions of the Clearwater – dating back 47 years, including a moment of silence and reflection, and a sing-along – still remain today.

The $850,000 renovation of the Clearwater is complete, but fundraising efforts to pay the final portion of the bill will be happening this fall. For more information on how you, or your student group, can plan a day on The Clearwater, or to support The Clearwater, visit www.clearwater.org.

Congratulations to 2016 Riverside High School graduate Fleurette Joseph, who received the Mayor’s Award for the 2015-16 school year, along with a $2,500 scholarship.

Since 2012, Mayor Mike Spano has awarded a college scholarship to one Yonkers Public Schools graduating senior who is in strong academic standing, a participant in extracurricular programs, a positive influence within his or her community, and recognized as a role model and leader amongst his or her peers.

Joseph embodied all of those traits, and graduated seventh in her class of 222 students at Riverside. Congrats, Fleurette, and thank you for inspiring us – you’re truly a remarkable person!
Mark Fraszka: He, Too, is a Mechanic to Be Missed

By Eric Schoen

The little things we need in our neighbor -hood: a good pharmacy, shoe repair shop, drycleaning store, newspaper, coffee shop, bakery for bread buns or a Napoleon cake… and a good mechanic to fix your car if it ever breaks down on the road and air-conditioning stops working.

We lost Harry’s Shoe Repair Shop in Getty Square recently. And this weekend, one of the best mechanics in Yonkers, Mark Fraszka, will retire after more than 30 years serving Yankees motor-ists. What will he do Monday when the check en-velopes stop coming in?

It’s hard to find a good mechanic. Having your car serviced at the dealership and you might as well open your wallet or pocketbook and watch the money fly away. As Mark once told me, “If your car has a recall, you deal with it.” He also stays on top of the changes in the automotive industry. He has attended auto trade shows and has been a supervisor in a tech factory. He came to the United States from Poland in 1983 and became a United States citizen in 1988. He speaks four languages – Polish, German, Russian and Ukrainian.

Born in Łódź, Poland, on March 10, 1952, Mark attended high school and college in Poland and enlisted in the Polish Air Force. In Poland, Mark was a supervisor in a tech factory. He came to America on Sept. 1, 1979 by himself with his $500 in his pocket, his good looks, and knowledge of Pol-ish, German, Russian and Ukrainian languages. He became a United States citizen in 1988. Mark was very handy and his first job in this country was as an auto mechanic in New Jersey. Repairing automobiles was his calling – the only job he has ever had in this country. He came to Yonkers, repaired taxis on Herriott Street for several years, and then in the summer of 1983, opened his own auto repair shop at 20 Larkin Plaza. Why did he choose Larkin Plaza? Location, location, location… it was right by the Yonkers train stations, on all bus routes, and a cab stand was a block away. Later on during his tenure, New York State Department of Motor Vehicles opened across the street. What better location for an automobile repair shop?

In 2001, the Yonkers Board of Education and Yonkers Public Library opened in the neighbor-hood, as well as thousands of units of housing. Providing Mark with a steady stream of customers. He never advertised and all his business came via word of mouth.

The auto repair business is not easy. People expect you to be there at 7:30 in the morning to drop off their cars and at 6 at night to pick them up. So for six days a week, 51 weeks a year for 33 years (more than 10,000 working days), Mark repaid the care of Yankees and those informed of the good work he did from friends and relatives. Together with a thriving business he raised a beautiful family. He married his wife, Tsipi Rosenbach Fraszka, on June 10, 1983. Mark and his wife have two sons, Daniel and David, both Yonkers police officers.

So what is the secret to Mark’s success? Hon-esty, integrity, and taking good care of people – all lessons his father taught him. If he says a car will be ready at a specific time, he makes sure it is ready. He also stays on top of the changes in the automotive industry by constantly reading all the car-related literature that is out there. Changes in the automotive world Mark has noticed in more than 30 years in the business in-clude more electronics and more computerization.

Irish Heritage to be Feted at Ridge Road Park

County Executive Robert Antoniotti invites everyone to experience a day-long salute to the Irish Heritage Day at Ridge Road Park in Hartsdale on Saturday, July 31 from 1 to 5:30 p.m. The event is part of a series of cultural heritage festivals held in the parks on weekends throughout the summer.

The event is sponsored by Westchester County Parks and the American-Irish Association. Admission is $5 per adult, with children 12 and under free. No coolers will be allowed. Chairs for seating on the lawn. The festival will be held rain or shine.

Irish Dancers. There will also be many vendors. There will be a variety of traditional foods, crafts, jewelry, clothing and more. Children may also enjoy games and other activities planned for them.

Irish Heritage Day is expected to draw 300 guests from the Irish American community of the tri-state area for its work on behalf of the New York City St. Patrick’s Day Parade for the past 27 years.

O’Connor works and volunteers in her home parish of St. John’s. She came from Mercy College, which she served as a New York City school teacher.

She is involved in Gaelic Football, where she has sat on the board of GaelicGirls and St. Brigid’s LGF&CC.

The program takes place at the new YPIE College Zone, a free-standing center focused on providing academic support, enrichment services and college information to students’ interests in the region.

The program will be offered Tuesday, Aug. 9 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the board room on the fourth floor. The program is free, but registration is required by calling 914-377-7956, as seating is limited.

Jenica Morgan, Executive Director of the Irish Center, located at One Larch Ktacin, is accessible to people with disabilities. Parking is available at the center and for a fee in the nearby Buena Vista and Warner parking garages. For more information, contact Jenica Morgan at 914-377-7956.

The event is sponsored by Woodlawn as well as the Octavia McVey Steed Foundation, Woodlawn, and for a fee in the nearby Buena Vista and Warner parking garages. For more information, contact Jenica Morgan at 914-377-7956.

On This Day in Yonkers History...

The Hudson River Amphitheater’s summer 2016 season includes free shows Friday, Aug. 5, 6 p.m.; doors open at 7:30 p.m. Free parking is available at JFK Memorial Drive and Warburton Avenue. The program was transmitted from Yonkers to the studios of WMCA at the Hotel McAlpin, 1927. The program was transmitted from Yonkers to the studios of WMCA at the Hotel McAlpin, and WOKO of Peekskill, the show featured musics by Harry Eaton’s seven-piece orchestra and Waltham Radio Store. Carried by both WMCA and WHN in New York City. Representatives of the Yonkers Corporation Council and the Health Commission planned to attend.

Aug. 4, 1929: Just as the steamer City of Keansburg was about to sail on a Yonkers athletic association excursion with 3,000 people on board, the motor boat was designed to prepare nurses for war work.

Aug. 5, 1916: The Rev. Richard Ormond Davis brought John Pignatore, inspector of the Immigration Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor, to inspect three houses on Warburton Avenue and found very poor conditions. A hearing was scheduled before the State Industrial Commission in New York City.

Aug. 6, 1913, with the records of the commission proving that Whitridge had done exactly that in 1910, and with the records of the commission proving that the vehicle from a control car 50 feet behind it, using “telegraphic instruments.”

Aug. 5, 1936: Twenty thousand residents of the Woman’s Institute. The class specifically instructed the dedication of the new seaplane landing at Sunset Park; they witnessed what was advertised as the launching of another link in a chain of seaplane bases connecting Long Island Sound and Canada.

Aug. 2, 1932: “Ice for the poor during the hot spell.” This society was given by Miss McVicar; they were taught at St. Denis Church shortly before it closed its doors for the last time in 1933.

Aug. 6, 1927: For the first time in Yonkers history, radio station WMCA did a remote broadcast from the fair city. Announcer Sidney Finlay began promptly at 8 a.m. from the Waltham Radio Station. Carried by both WHN and WMCA of Peekskill, the show featured musics by Harry Eaton’s seven-piece orchestra and a short talk by Emma Sackett, Miss Yonkers of 1926. The program was transmitted from Yonkers to the studios of WMCA at the Hotel McAlpin, then through a wire and the Hudson to Hoboken and through a wire to Peekskill.

Aug. 7, 1924: On Thursday, Aug. 4, 1927, The program was transmitted from Yonkers to the studios of WMCA at the Hotel McAlpin, then through a wire and the Hudson to Hoboken and through a wire to Peekskill.

Aug. 6, 1936: Twenty thousand residents

Aug. 5, 1916: President of the Third Avenue Railroad Company Frederick Whitridge issued a statement from Scotland declaring, “I never made any agreement to arbitrate differences with employees of the firm.” Chairman Strauss of the Public Service Commission immediately fired back that Whitridge had done exactly that in 1910, and with the records of the commission proving that the vehicle from a control car 50 feet behind it, using “telegraphic instruments.”

As Republicans across the country gathered in Cleveland, Ohio, for the Republican National Convention, they looked to the New York State Senator Majority Leader John Flanagan as the “standard bearer” for the party. The former Republican presidential nominee Donald Trump, also committed to keeping Flanagan in his “inner circle.”

“Don’t let all the speculation go to your head,” said Flanagan during a conference call before the national convention. Trump has said, “we have to work together, we have to stand up and be counted. Yonkers Has a Shake Shack!

It’s official: Westchester has a Shake Shack, located in Yonkers at the Cross County Shopping Center.

As part of Shake Shack’s mission to “Stand For Something Good,” Shake Shack will donate 5 percent of sales from the Cross County Crunch concrete to Yonkers Partners in Education, a non-profit that works to increase the number of Yonkers Public School students who complete a post-secondary program that prepares them for a successful career.

Guests can quench their thirst with a selection of local craft beer from Yonkers Brewing Company, Bronx Pale Ale, Broken Bow Brewery and Southern Tier Brewing Company, in addition to the Shake Shack-exclusive ShackMeister Ale from Brooklyn Brewery. Wine lovers can sip on Shack Red and Shack White wine from Frog’s Leap Winery.

In keeping with Shake Shack’s commitment to thoughtful, well-crafted and responsible design, the Cross County Shake Shack’s tabletops are made from reclaimed bowling alley lanes by CounterEvolution and chairs are designed by Uhuru using sustainable materials. Booths are crafted by Staach using lumber certified by the Forestry Stewardship Council.

The Yonkers location also features a spacious outdoor patio with picnic tables.

Friends and family of Michael Nolan honored his memory and enjoyed a day of softball and fun July 23 at Cook Field, with the proceeds going to the Michael Nolan Memorial Fund, which will give college scholarships to Yonkers High School students.

‘Theoutcome’ determinant in memory of Nolan, a star pitcher from Saunders who was drafted by the Oakland A’s, and who was shot and killed last September, was a great success. It was attended by more than 200 people, including several softball teams, and included games, music and food for families.

Nolan’s brother Jimmy said the day was bittersweet because of the memories it conjured up, the way it highlighted the fact that his brother can’t be here to enjoy the day, and the way in which Michael died.

Jim and Donna Nolan thanked everyone for coming and vowed to continue to remember their son in this type of positive manner.

Elected officials who stopped by included Assemblymember Shelley Mayer and Council President Liam McLaughlin.

In addition to the teams, there were family-friendly bouncy castles, face-painting, and a dunking tank and wading pool for the toddlers. Larry Santowassoz was the DJ and emcee for the event.
