This, Too, is Column No. 250

Editor’s note: Congratulations to our colleague Eric Schoen for the 250th submission of “This, Too, is Yonkers.” Four columns is mentioned in our readers most of one of the reasons they pick our paper, and in a short period of time, your readership has increased. The staff at the Charter School for Educational Excellence in Yonkers recently welcomed students back for the 2015-16 school year. Mrs. Cindy Lopez, and every member of the CSEE staff, understands the need to value the community’s involvement in a child’s education, established in 2005, has – over 10 years – contributed to the growth of 4,000 students. Yonkers Rising has become an outside the boardwalk overlooking Rehoboth Beach. I was thinking about this while visiting Delaware. No sales tax at all. Not on the fish and chips (something I haven’t eaten in ages). I enjoyed sitting on a balcony clothes, and not on the fish and chips (something I haven’t eaten in ages). Faith

By Ann Muro

This Friday, Sept. 11 brings to mind a day none of us can ever forget. Many lost friends, colleagues and relatives when the World Trade Center was hit.

Each of us deals with tragedy and loss in a different way, but one’s faith often provides the courage and strength to go on.

Faith
It’s our faith that keeps us going.
When things are going wrong
It’s that faith that keeps us going
When we’re trying to be strong

There are times when we have doubted
And even questioned why
But faith provides the answers
We learn as time goes by
Fear and faith don’t get along
Fear drives us far away
It’s the change that leads the battles
The ones we face each day

It’s the fiber of our being
Joined with one said within
So never lose your faith; my friend
It’s the only way to win

Councilman Christopher Johnson and Council Minority Leader Michael Sabatino with friends and relatives of Boyce “Scoop” Jackson.

Members of the Democratic Caucus of the Yonkers City Council – Councilwoman Corazon Pineda, Councilman Christopher Johnson and Minority Leader Michael Sabatino – joined together Sept. 7 to celebrate the life and legacy of a “gentle giant.” To celebrate Labor Day, the residents of the Ross F. Calcagno Homes organized a Labor Day cookout along with local business owners and others in the community in memory of Boyce “Scoop” Coleman.

A press conference was held at the corner of School Street and Brook Street to announce the commencement of the process for an honorary street renaming. One year ago, Boyce “Scoop” Coleman lost his own life saving another, and it is only befitting to have the street renamed to be “Boyce ‘Scoop’ Coleman Way,” said area leaders.

Coleman was 43 years old when his life was ended. He was born in Yonkers and this is where he spent his life. He enjoyed the company of his family and friends, especially his two daughters. He was a lover of life and the “finer things.” Coleman was friend to all and was always willing to lend a “helping hand.” His passing was a great loss to his family, friends and community and he is sorely missed.

“I am pleased to join my colleagues, as well as the family and friends of Boyce ‘Scoop’ Coleman, in support of the street renaming process for someone who displayed such a heroic act and I am honored to have such a legacy in the Second District,” said Pineda.

Johnson pointed out how, “unfortunately, we witnessed a tragedy at the same time that the City of Yonkers realized a hero.”

“I proudly support this process dedicating this street in Boyce ‘Scoop’ Coleman’s name, which celebrates our local champions who sacrifice themselves for our community,” he said.

Sabatino added: “I am happy to be part of this initiative to name this street after one of our local heroes, Boyce ‘Scoop’ Coleman, who gave up his life to help another. It is a small recognition for an act that was unselfish. We honor him, and his family and friends whom he left behind.”

Yonkers to Rename Street After ‘Gentle Giant’

The City of Yonkers will hold three 9/11 remembrance ceremonies Friday, Sept. 11: at 8:30 a.m. at the 9/11 waterfront memorial on Grant Street; at 6 p.m. at Charles Bajart American Legion Post 1122, 840 McLean Ave.; and at 7:15 p.m. at the Conor Park memorial on McLean Avenue.

The public is encouraged to show up and honor the lives lost, and lives forever changed by the terrorist attacks of Sept. 11, 2001.

Nuckel Wants Yonkers To Follow May's Voice

Bill Nuckel, the Republican candidate for Yonkers mayor, issued the following release on what he sees as wasteful spending at city hall and the need to come up with a plan both the people and the politicians in Yonkers can agree on.

The city was over spending and under delivering, Nuckel said.

"We will start by taking every dollar that is allocated for salaries and get the people that are under performing to the bottom of the list," Nuckel said.

"We will start the budget process over, as there is no point in continuing the same," Nuckel added.

Mayor Mike Spano today, January 23, 2012, announced that Carlos Morin will be appointed to the Yonkers City Council.

"He will be able to meet the requests of the police department in a timely manner," said Sabatino.

"I am happy to have him as a member of the City Council. I look forward to working with him," said Mayor Mike Spano.

Mr. Morin will fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Ann Muro. The Yonkers City Council approved the appointment of Mr. Morin on February 13, 2012.

Mike Spano: For Yonkers mayor, issued the following release.

"We are going to eliminate every vehicle we possibly can. I have been working on this for several years and we will be able to do it.

We will have to make changes in the city hall and the politicians in Yonkers can agree on.

"We will start by taking every dollar that is allocated for salaries and get the people that are under performing to the bottom of the list," Nuckel said.

"We will start the budget process over, as there is no point in continuing the same," Nuckel added.

Dr. James Jen of Yonkers Joins WESTMED Medical Group

Phelps Memorial Hospital Center invites seniors to attend a fall prevention awareness workshop Friday, Sept. 18 from 9 a.m. to noon in the auditorium on the hospital campus, 701 North Broadway, Mamaroneck. The workshops will include information on “The Four Keys Things You Can Do To Prevent Falls.”

New York is one of the top states participating in the National Council on the Aging’s Falls Awareness Day, a companion program of national organizations, professional associations and federal agencies working together to build education, awareness and evidence-based solutions about fall prevention to local communities.

Falls are the leading cause of fatal and non-fatal injuries for those 65 years of age and older; every 14 seconds, an older adult is seen in an emergency department for a fall-related injury. The chances of falling and of being seriously injured in a fall increase with age. The theme for this year’s Falls Prevention Awareness Day is “Take a Stand to Prevent Falls.” The day highlights the important roles professionals, older adults, caregivers and family members play in raising awareness and preventing falls in the older adult population.

“Falls are not a normal part of aging, and seniors and their families can take steps to help older adults reduce the risk of falling, lead healthier lives and preserve their independence when they attend on a regular basis. The program is beneficial for adults and particularly safe and effective for those living with cognitive decline, Parkinson’s disease, diabetes, or depressive episodes. If you have arthritis, heart failure, diabetes, or a stroke, you might particularly benefit from the program. Those in wheelchairs or walkers will be served.

For more information or to register for the National Falls Prevention Awareness Day event at Phelps, call Erin Woods at 914-366-8707 or erwoods@phms.org.

Another Golden Parachute For a Public Servant

By Dan Murphy

The issue of our public and civil servants "double dipping," or collecting a salary in addition to a pension or salary pension, has been a pet peeve of many good government and budget-conscious Westchester elected officials, voted and non-voted in recent years.

It is hard for the taxpayer to swallow the idea of a public employee collecting a second salary, regardless of whether that civil servant whose dual status is receiving is providing useful public service a second time or for two public jobs at the same time.

This issue recently came up again when Westchester Board of Legislators Clerk and Chief Administrative Officer Tina Seckerson took an early retirement incentive recently offered to county employees who worked for Westchester for 35 years, and the large number of political or patronage appointments that job instead of providing Seckerson with additional pay.

Consultancy, arguing that the county is actually "saving money" by hiring Seckerson at $20,000 per year, rather than for $30,000. This is an argument for re-hiring most civil servants and public servants.

The other side to this argument is shouldn't the county be required to pay out to its dollars to hire a new employee, a less-paid one, at a lesser salary, rather than just providing Seckerson with additional pay?

The real issue here is the principle of the thing that Seckerson was entitled to earn.

YHS Football, Week One

Bailey is a sweet Beagle about 2 years old and weighing 20 to 22 pounds. He was left behind when someone moved, but was well cared for – not thin, and not frightened in any way. He’s very confident and easygoing, just as you would expect a Beagle to be.

Bailey likes to spend time with people and likes to sniff as hounds do. He has been having a wonderful time, investigating every blade of grass in the shelter yard. Although, Bailey loves everyone and every animal he has met, he does “yodel” like a Beagle, so he would not be appropriate for apartment living.

Visit Bailey at the Yonkers Animal Shelter, 1000 Ridge Hill Blvd., between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. seven days a week.
