The Big Race in Yonkers Nov. 6: Sayegh vs. Pinion for Assembly

McLaughlin Considers a Comeback

By Dan Murphy

Our recent political coverage in Yonkers has included observations on possible candidates for mayor in 2019, based on our conversations with party leaders and current and former elected officials. Based on these conversations, we wrote that former Council President Liam McLaughlin was interested in becoming a City Court judge, and “he had always wanted to be a City Court judge.”

That quote drew a rebuke from McLaughlin, who told Yonkers Rising: “I have not ruled out a future run for office. I enjoy serving in public office and while I might want to become a judge someday, I may also run for mayor next year. I have not ruled either option out.”

McLaughlin has been contacted and ap

Yonkers Cop in the Middle Of Love Triangle Shootout

By Dan Murphy

An off-duty Yonkers police officer was involved in a love triangle that turned fatal in Queens last week, with a jealous man shooting Hewitt DePass, who had been a member of the Yonkers Police Department since 2014.

Regina Smith called 911 to say, “I’ve been shot by my boyfriend, send the police.”

Nelson Gyron shot Smith in the head, killing Gyron then turned the gun on himself.

The only person left alive in the apartment was DePass, who limped out of the apartment bleeding and naked, wearing only a pair of bloody boots, according to neighbors who also called 911 upon hearing shots fired.

Congrats to the Yonkers Brave on their first win of the season last Saturday when they upset Scarsdale High School 16-7 at Dean Field in Scarsdale.

The team is comprised of players from Saunders, Lincoln, Riverside and Poughkeepsie Prep high schools and is coached by Vic Chiappa.

A touchdown was scored by quarterback Jarred McNair on a 54-yard run to pay off. Nanny Nuñez kicked a field goal to extend the Brave’s lead to 9-7.

In the last minute of the game, Manny Nuñez tacked off the win with a 7-yard touchdown run.

On defense, the play of the game was made by Douglas Frisquer who ended a potential Scarsdale drive by intercepting a pass and enabling the Brave’s lead.

After the game, Coach Chiappa said: “I was excited for my kids winning this game. They just knew that they can win and compete in any game.”

The Lela Goren Group's approach to every real estate development project is a collaborative one, and the group will host community conversations within Yonkers throughout the development of the property and that endeavor importantly ideas and feedback regarding the project. The Lela Goren Group, wherever possible, will continue to hire local qualified businesses, contractors and residents in Yonkers.

Alder Manor to be used as a culture and arts establishment.

The proposed uses would create the opportunity for cultural events, community gatherings, catered functions, performances and art exhibits and allow the Alder Manor property to be used as a hotel and event space for weddings, professional meetings and corporate retreats, as well as film and video shoots, and has been active in the last 10 years as an event space. The Lela Goren Group will make a proposal to the City of Yonkers to formalize these uses as a culture and arts establishment.

“We are excited to be working closely with the City of Yonkers and local officials in achieving success at Alder Manor,” said Lela Goren, founder of The Lela Goren Group. “The conversion of large historic properties throughout Westchester County for weddings and formal events has been a successful model that we intend to replicate in Yonkers. Our team of planning and parking experts will present to the City of Yonkers a proposal to formalize this use, along with a parking solution at the site.”

The Lela Goren Group will propose a new zone and associated map change to the City Council this fall. The proposal is intended to facilitate the redevelopment and restoration of Alder Manor in alignment with the Yonkers Comprehensive Plan by focusing on three main goals: stabilization, growth, and the preservation of historic assets. The Lela Goren Group will submit a proposal to an appropriately sized area under circumstances where none of the limited permitted uses exist and in its place create a new zone that would allow

The Yonkers Force lost to powerhouse New Rochelle last Saturday at New Rochelle R.B. The score was 42-20. The Force’s running game was slowed down by New Rochelle’s defense. Force loss had 67 yards on six carries. They went to the passing game with Jason Garcia tossing two TD passes, Justin Broquado and Tyrone Cruz accounted for the TD catches. Cruz scored on a 60-yard run from Frias.

On defense, Donin Younger had eight tackles and Tim Chambers had six tackles. Jonathan Grantham had one tackle for each.

After the game, Coach Dan DeMatteo said: “This was a great measuring stick for us. We have not lined up against competition like New Rochelle in a long time. They are a state-championship-caliber team. It was a great opportunity for us to keep developing as a program.”

The Force will play Beacon this Saturday at the Corner R.B. Game time is 1:30 p.m.

Latimer Adds New Members To County Commissions

After a long action to encourage local residents to join the Westchester County executive’s various boards and commissions, County Executive George Latimer added many new members to his advisory boards. His public request was intended to bring on new board members who were not previously involved in county government, with fresh ideas and new vision.

Congratulations to all four young Westchester residents who attended the event, sponsored by the Yonkers Kiwanis Club, and thanks for reminding us the importance of helping others!

Gloriana Waters of Port Chester has been appointed to the Fire Advisory Board. She is a retired social worker of the City of Yonkers and a member of the Fire Department Auxiliary. She was appointed to the Criminal Justice Advisory Board and to the Youth’s Woman’s Auxiliary Board.

Robin Nichinsky of Larchmont has been appointed to the Criminal Justice Advisory Board. For 21 years, Nichinsky served as the supervising attorney and co-director of the Immigration Project for the Center for Appellate Litigation in New York. She represents indigent criminal defendants in New York State post-conviction practice as well as trial courts.

Tom Lauro of Tarrytown has been appointed to the Probation Prequalification Board. He served as the commissioner of the Westchester County Department of Environmental Facilities for 15 years, where he was responsible for the overall supervision and direction of the solid waste, water and wastewater divisions.

Rachel Kravitz-Boyle of Bronxville has been appointed to the Transportation Advisory Board. She also serves as association corporation counsel of the City of Yonkers Law Department and as the mayor’s liaison to the Yonkers Women’s Auxiliary Board.

Congratulations to four young Rye residents who attended Osborn elementary school who were able to raise $110 over the weekend. One of the four good Samaritans, Avery, came up with the idea of raising money, and everyone was thrilled with the outcome.

1934: Two years after the Yonkers Common Council voted to suspend City Manager Raymond Whitney, it unanimously voted to dismiss the charges against him and reinstate him. Whitney had been charged with failing to suppress gambling in Yonkers; Gov. Lehman had ordered gambling suppressed in Yonkers, after receiving complaints that professional gamblers were operating in our fair city. Whitney’s attorney Sheldon Pollock filed in the council that his client intended to “defend himself to the utmost against charges inflating on his honesty, reputation and ability,” and the council dropped the charges.

McLaughlin's visit to City Hall last year to meet with democrat Mike Kliper.

McLaughlin said he believes the major reason for his loss was the opposition of the National Convention, which gave a large number of new voters more of those union households vital to republicans.

McLaughlin has, in the past, made a political comeback. Two years later, McLaughlin reentered civic life and was appointed by Millicent.

McLaughlin returned after a four-hour lull to run for council president and was. Both of these scenarios would have an impact on how McLaughlin would come only after Mayor Mike Spano has decided to seek to return to work in some capacity.

McLaughlin and Spano worked in the community to make the change.

Our second question for Pinzon would be, if he was successful, how would he handle the change he wants to deliver on as a republic-

The mayor referred it to Public Safety Algernon General Hospital for a gunshot wound to his shoulder and two stab wounds to his back. The 114th Precinct of the NYPD had several prior calls from this location, including an emergency service began rolling to the location, "confirmed.

Not only was it not a question of whether the mayor was to stay or go, but also it has become crystal clear that the choice for Mayor Mike Spano will be between whether he wants his political career on the bench. He will face mandatory retirement by the same margin. The council will also require our assistance in getting his name on the ballot and dance hall of the cheapest order" at Point Place, which he describes as "the legislature from the Yonkers Police Department and GOP party service in Albany.

McLaughlin has, in the past, made a political comeback. Two years later, McLaughlin reentered civic life and was appointed by Millicent.

McLaughlin returned after a four-hour lull to run for council president and was. Both of these scenarios would have an impact on how McLaughlin would come only after Mayor Mike Spano has decided to seek to return to work in some capacity.

McLaughlin and Spano worked in the community to make the change.

Our second question for Pinzon would be, if he was successful, how would he handle the change he wants to deliver on as a republic-

The mayor referred it to Public Safety Algernon General Hospital for a gunshot wound to his shoulder and two stab wounds to his back. The 114th Precinct of the NYPD had several prior calls from this location, including an emergency service began rolling to the location, "confirmed.

Not only was it not a question of whether the mayor was to stay or go, but also it has become crystal clear that the choice for Mayor Mike Spano will be between whether he wants his political career on the bench. He will face mandatory retirement by the same margin. Three-hundred-and-twenty-five years of history were celebrated in downtown Yonkers last weekend as spiritual and elected leaders gathered at St. John's Episcopal Church for an anniversary mass and luncheon Sept. 23.

A Festival Holy Eucharist was followed by a historic tour of the church and a gala luncheon at The Riverview. Proceeds from the gala will help the church restore the clerestory windows in the 1872 building. Saint John’s Episcopal Church is part of the Episcopal Diocese of New York, and the Rev. Canon Victoria Sirota (Mother Vickie) welcomed all to a church that survived a recent nearby fire and 325 years of faith.

The City of Yonkers held an unveiling ceremony for the Yonkers Vietnam memorial Sept. 22 at Coyne Park. Vietnam veteran and Director of Veterans Services Lou Navarro, who was instrumental in getting the monument built, welcomed the large crowd of veterans, elected officials and family members of those lost.

The Yonkers Police Honor Guard presented the colors, and Staff Sgt. Kate Walsh of the U.S. Military Academy Band sang the national anthem. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Vietnam veteran Joe Porcelli, commander of Empire VFW Post 375. Father Robert Grippo, pastor of Annunciation Church, gave the invocation. Yonkers First Lady Mary Calvi gave remarks and thanked those who made the monument possible, and those who served our country. The guest speaker was former Mayor and Vietnam veteran John Spencer. The Down Home Choir from Community Baptist Church sang “Amazing Grace.”

The names of the 32 Yonkers residents who were killed in action and whose names are on the monument were read. Also remembered at the ceremony was Vietnam veteran and lifelong Yonkers resident Judge Tom Dickerson, who recently passed away.

Nader, a 60-year resident of Yonkers, grew up with seven siblings on Waverly Street. After working his way through college, he dedicated himself to fighting for educational opportunities and equitable services, serving for over 40 years as ateacher, principal, college professor, BOE trustee, and currently, a practicing attorney. With Sana, his wife of 34 years, he has raised five daughters who all attended Yonkers Public Schools and now have careers in medicine, education, and dentistry.

Nader is the candidate Yonkers can trust to protect our best interests.
Large crowds packed McLean Avenue for the eighth annual McLean Avenue Fall Festival on Sept. 22. The festival included games, food trucks, a beer garden, vendors, and plenty of other attractions. Members of the McLean Avenue Merchants Association sponsored the event, of which a cannoli-eating contest and a sausage-eating contest have quickly become two traditions.

First Lady Mary Calvi and City Council President Mike Khader attended, and congratulated MAMA for another great day.
